WHY BRAZIL AND CHILE?

Recently, there has been significant growth in US and Canadian trade with Brazil and Chile—up 16% and 38% respectively through November 2022. Sectors with high opportunity include energy, infrastructure, health, chemicals, defense and aviation, telecom, ITC, education and fintech services.

Brazil has the largest consumer market and GDP in South America with a diversified economy. Due to complex regulatory and tax frameworks, it is often helpful for exporters to enter the market with assistance from a knowledgeable trade office, as provided by the GSGP.

Chile continues to be a strong trading partner and export market, largely due to its open market policies, zero tariffs, and solid business practices. The US and Canada both have Free Trade Agreements in place with Chile.
